

We are at the IDA this Week

The Infectious Diseases in Africa Symposium is taking place from the 12-16th November 2018. Immunopaedia is assisting with providing immunology content and training. We are also taking interesting interviews of the faculty.

We shall provide summaries of the talks and interviews of the faculty during the course of next week.

